

COMMITTEE OF 50 HEADS DRIVE FOR GERMAN CHILDREN

Campaign Opens Jan. 1, 1924 With Banks Acting As Collecting Agencies

A committee of fifty prominent men from Outagamie county has been named to head the Outagamie county campaign to raise money for relief of hungry children in Germany which begins on Jan. 1. The banks in the county have been designated as collection agencies during the campaign which probably will run during most of January.

Mayor Henry Reuter of Appleton is chairman of the committee. Other officers are Hugh G. Corbett, secretary, and John L. Heitinger is treasurer. Donors to the fund can make their contributions to the banks or the fund treasurer.

There will not be a house-to-house solicitation during the campaign. Weather conditions are expected to make this impossible.

No definite quota has been assigned to Outagamie county but it is expected to raise at least $2,000 for relief of the Germans. Conditions in Germany are said to be appalling, with millions of children on the verge of starvation.

Wisconsin's quota of the $20,000,000 to be raised in the United States is $500,000 of which more than $100,000 has been raised in Milwaukee. Judge A. C. Beckus, Milwaukee, is chairman and W. Kasten, Milwaukee, is secretary of state organization which is known as Wisconsin branch of American committee for relief of German children. Checks are to be made payable to the German Children's Relief Fund.

Following is the committee which will head the campaign.

Mayor Henry Reuter, chairman; Hugh G. Corbett, secretary; John Heitinger, treasurer; Herman Froehlich, Black Creek; August Hertzfeldt, Black Creek; Theodore Mueller, Cleora; Henry Seifert, Dale; G. A. Detman, Fremont; John Knappstein, Greenville; Charles Raught, Kaukauna; R. A. Miller, Kaukauna; John Coppes, Kaukauna; George H. Fiedler, Seymour; Louis White, Seymour; Rev. C. Ripp, Bear Creek; Joseph Doerflinger, Kimberly; P. A. Gledens, Little Chute; Mrs. Stephen Rosebush, F. J. Harwood, Mrs. H. W. Meyer, F. J. Rooney, J. P. Frank, John J. Sherman, Louis Wissman, Frank Groh, Samuel Plantz, G. P. Werner, Dr. H. E. Peabody, Dr. J. A. Holmes, Rev. W. J. Fitzmaurice, Rev. Basil Gammann, Rev. Theo. G. March, Rev. T. J. Sauer, Rev. F. L. Ruessmann, E. A. Schmaltz, Miss Minnie Gesen, J. D. Steele, Dr. E. H. Brooks, B. J. Rohan, G. E. Buchanan, William Fournier and Fred Beckman, all of Appleton.

FARMERS IMPROVING DRAINAGE ON FARMS

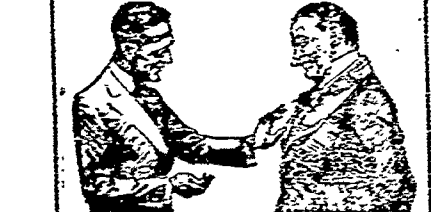

Aided by favorable weather conditions a number of farmers in this community have been able to do considerable tilling on their low lands this fall. Alfred Hoh of Greenville is among the farmers who has just completed work. Henry Miller is tilling his farm in Greenville. Frank London and Robert Jamison also did some tilling on their farms.

LITTLE HUNTING IN LAST DAYS OF DUCK SEASON

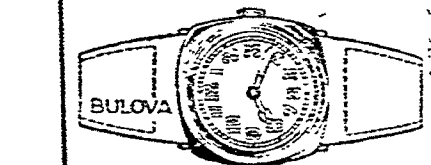

Thursday is the end of duck hunting season for 1923. Little duck hunting took place the last of the season because most of the ducks have left this vicinity. The few that remained were difficult to find because of the ice along the shore. The rabbit season will end Jan. 1 and there are plenty of bunnies. Geese and brant may be shot until Dec. 31.

High School Students Dress Becomingly And Sensibly, Teachers Say

Mentors Agree That Appleton High School Has No Dress Problem—Oppose Uniforms For Students

The majority of Appleton high school girls dress sensibly most of the time. This is the verdict of Principal Lee C. Rasey and many of the teachers in the high school who say that there is very little over-dressing done by the high school girls. The same thing applies to the boys, the teachers said.

When asked if there were any "freak dressers" among the girls, the teachers were unable to point out any one student who wears clothes that are entirely inappropriate for school. Many of the teachers who have taught in other schools say that the Appleton student body seems to have grasped the idea of proper dressing more readily than many schools. Miss Hortense Nielsen, who gave a dramatic program in the high school, recently remarked to the teachers about the splendid appearance of the entire student body.

CAN'T JUDGE FAMILIES

"The best dressed girls in school are not always from the most well-to-do families," said one of the teachers. "You often find a girl who spends a comparatively small sum on her clothes whom you pick out of the crowd as a well dressed girl. And, however, the girls from the homes where there is no need for great economy dress less gaudily and more plainly than the others. You almost never find a girl who can have anything she wants wearing silk dresses to school. Her school clothes are well made, well chosen and becoming and there is no desire on her part to 'dollar up'."

That many of the high school girls are wearing fur coats seems to cause no alarm to the faculty. Mr. Rasey feels that the great majority of fur coats are worn by girls whose parents can well afford to buy them. All of the teachers feel that there is little or no harm in wearing the coat of clothes, but that they can urge the students indirectly to wear the right sort of things in classes.

OPPOSE UNIFORMS

"Uniforms are monotonous and would be an additional financial burden to the parents of some of the pupils," say the teachers. "Many of the children have attractive dresses which they say have been made over from clothes of someone else in the family. These dresses would be impossible if a uniform were required. One could not make over old clothes into the regulation uniform." "We would die of monotony-looking at uniforms," they continue. "A high school need not be a penal institution in order to keep the students from wearing the wrong sort of clothes. They soon learn what they should and should not wear. Occasionally, we have to sit down and look at a dress with almost no sleeves in it for a class period, but these are not worn often nor by more than one or two at the most in a class."

SIMPLE COSTUMES

Simple wool dresses, skirts and middie or skirts and sweaters seem to be the favorite costumes for the students, there is some jewelry worn, but there is no excess of ornament except in a few instances. Now that skirts are longer, the students wear their skirts well below the knees and at a sensible length. There are some ankle length costumes, of course, but these are exceptions.

"Much credit for the lack of a clothes problem in this school should go to the home economics department," said one of a group of teachers. "All the girls who take sewing learn what is becoming and appropriate. You would be surprised how readily the girls accept such information and incorporate it in their dress. Some of the dresses that the 'home ec' girls have made are lovely."

"We have no clothes problem to speak of in this school," said Mr. Rasey. "If we should have a uniform system, a clothes question would be raised at once. There is no need for any change in policy, but if there was, I would not favor having the students attempt to wear uniforms."

MOTORISTS LIKE SAFETY CLUB IDEA

Motorists like the idea of organizing a safety club here and a number of them have expressed their approval to Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce. They believe there is urgent need here for an organization that stands for careful driving, and that its plan to educate the motorists to safe road practices will be of value.

Drafting of rules for the proposed club is in progress. They will be made brief and simple and will embody the best ideas of other clubs. The community welfare committee has this project in charge and will arrange a meeting of motorists after the holidays.

SHOE CONCERN ASKS 20 YEARS' FREE RENT

A Baltimore shoe concern is considering Appleton as the possible site for location of a plant and sets forth several features in this respect in a letter addressed to the chamber of commerce. The company needs about 50,000 square feet of floor space and wants free rent for 20 years; after which it will acquire the building as owner.

The communication has been referred to the industrial building committee of the chamber for investigation.

FOUND PROSPERITY IN PUREBRED HERD

New London Farmer Says Farming Unprofitable With Scrub Cattle

BY W. F. WINSEY

After experimenting several years with scrub cows and becoming more dissatisfied each year with the profits from his dairy, Herman Stichtman, New London, route 1, decided fifteen years ago to eliminate low production cows of his herd and fill their places with purebred animals. He made this radical move because he knew that if he could not make dairy pay he was "up against it," as they say, and would be forced to give up farming and find some other occupation.

"Since we made the change from scrubs to purebreds," says Mr. Stichtman, "we have more than doubled the productiveness and profits of our herd and I have often told my wife, if it were not for our purebred cattle, we would be 'on the rocks'."

Although exchanging one animal at a time for the sake of economy was a slow process and required years to acquire a purebred herd, Mr. Stichtman reached the point two years ago where he could enter a calf, one two year old heifer and a five year old cow in the consignment sale in Appleton. The W. T. Rawleigh company, Freeport, bought the heifer, the cow went to an Appleton dairyman and the calf to Seymour. Paul Nyhus who had charge of the sale congratulated Mr. Stichtman on being able to consign such excellent type of dairy animals.

KEEPS HEIFER CALVES

Last year, Mr. Stichtman sold one purebred cow and this year nothing but bull calves. He retains all his heifer calves for his own use in building up his herd.

Mr. Stichtman and his brothers had always been admirers of Holstein cattle and when they decided to make a change and began examining various kinds of dairy herds, they were convinced that their first impressions were correct.

They bought their first purebred sire from Mr. Esterbrook Appleton, their first cow from Paul Hemmy, Juneau; their second herd sire from Dr. Roberts, Waukesha and two more cows from William Christianson, Royalton. These animals were the foundation of the Stichtman herd.

Mr. Stichtman's herd now consists of 14 cows, 4 calves and 1 herd sire. Matador Mercedes Siges Walker, four years old.

The names and production records of a few of Mr. Stichtman's cows are as follows: Beauty Mercedes Pet Johanna, ten years old, butter 29.77, milk 615 pounds, test 3.39.

Betsy Mercedes Johanna, seven years, butter 28 pounds, milk 601 pounds, test 3.78. Bonnie Mercedes Johanna (Junior two year old) butter 15 pounds, milk 400 pounds, test 3.55.

Inka Elba De Kol, three years, butter 21.85, milk 518 pounds, test 3.5. De Kol Maggie Inka, two years, butter 18.59, milk 437 pounds, test 3.6. Melrose Inka Maud De Kol, two years, butter 15.05, milk 388, test 3.7.

During the flush season, Mr. Stichtman milked nine cows, fed five calves and sold 400 pounds of milk daily. The test ranged from 3 to 3.5 per cent. In winter his test is 4.4 per cent.

In summer, Mr. Stichtman pastures his cattle on red clover and alfalfa and in winter he feeds them ground oats and corn, alfalfa hay, oil meal and bran. He makes frequent changes of rations.

Fred Eden of Milwaukee, who has been a guest at the Conway hotel was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital on Tuesday evening where he submitted to an operation for appendicitis.

$184,723 INCOME TAX CERTIFIED TO CITY TREASURER

Income Tax Roll For Collection In 1924 $50,000 Greater Than Year Ago

A total of $184,723.62 in income tax has been certified to the city of Appleton for collection. This is nearly $51,000 greater than the income tax roll of a year ago. Just what revenue the city will derive, however, is not yet certain, since a large amount will have to be deducted as personal property offset.

The county income tax roll, as reported by Anton Oppgaard, acting assessor of incomes, is $175,002.54, which also is greater than last year. The normal corporation tax of $150,000.73 alone is double that of last year.

The city's income tax roll is divided as follows: Normal tax for individuals $52,692.21, for corporations, $98,616.03; soldier educational bonus surtax for individuals $4,311.27, for corporations $9,199.48; soldier bonus tax for corporations only, $3,641.37; teachers retirement surtax for individuals $3,594.45, for corporations $12,678.51.

The total tax for individuals is $60,597.93, as compared with $59,998 last year, and the total corporation tax $124,125.59 as compared with $65,735 last year.

The county is assessing $85,215 against individuals and $158,517.46 against corporations. This shows that Appleton will pay 70 per cent of the county's income tax on individuals and about 65 per cent of the county corporation income tax.

The city's income tax warrant, as compiled by E. L. Williams, city clerk, disagrees slightly with the totals of the income assessor. The normal tax is $151,075.60, the soldier bonus surtax $3,641.37, the soldier educational bonus surtax $13,510.75, and the teacher retirement fund surtax $16,272.26, making the total income tax warrant $184,500.98. All surtaxes are paid directly to the state. From the $151,075.60 normal income tax, the personal property offset is deducted, and the remainder is apportioned as follows: 70 per cent to the city, 20 per cent to the county and 10 per cent to the state. The entire tax warrant, which includes the city general property tax, state and county taxes and school taxes, amounts to $1,141,456.40, according to the figures reported by Mr. Williams to the state.

COLLEGE MEN TAKE CENSUS TO LEARN RELIGION OF CATS

Murfreeboro, N. C. — College men have been taking a cat census of the town.

Under the direction of the Sophomore members of the Freshman Class of Chowan College have visited every home in town inquiring whether any cats live there.

Some of the replies were not very complimentary. But the fear of worse having made the Freshies stick it through.

And this is what they found: Of 70 felines within the city limits 40 are gray, 7 yellow, 3 white and 20 black.

There is one cat to every ten persons in this thriving village, the ages ranging from six months to five years.

The data likewise included church affiliation. Twenty-eight are Baptist, 20 Methodist, 2 Episcopalians, 3 Catholic, and six holy jumpers.

Ten of the cats made no pretense of religion and were listed in the poll as pagans.

Haskin Can't Help If You Forget Name

Readers of the Post-Crescent who make use of the Post-Crescent's information bureau at Washington, D. C., have no realization of the tremendous amount of mail that is handled by that great organization. The bureau, of which Frederic J. Haskin is director, serves hundreds of newspapers, some of them with circulations far in excess of 100,000 copies a day. As many as 300 letters have been received by Mr. Haskin in a single week from readers of The Post-Crescent alone so it is evident that an enormous staff is required to handle the avalanche of mail which pours into his office every day.

One of Mr. Haskin's greatest troubles is caused by the failure of his patrons to write their addresses plainly or by forgetting to write them at all. Mr. Haskin says he receives from 50 to 100 unsigned letters every day and of course it is impossible to answer their requests for information.

SECOND LEG AMPUTATED AFTER FALL FROM CHAIR

Stevens Point—George Ross, 62 years old, who had his left leg amputated two years ago in an effort to gain relief from rheumatism, is now minus his remaining leg. Mr. Ross has been a rheumatic sufferer since he was 12 years old.

ters every day and of course it is impossible to answer their requests for information.

Last week Mr. Haskin received a half-dozen unsigned coupons from readers of the Post-Crescent. It is probable these readers are fretting because their requests for information or for booklets have not been answered. Mr. Haskin advises that persons writing him for information or booklets be careful to write their names and addresses carefully so there will be no delay in taking care of their wants.

ON THE SCREEN

ZANE GREY'S STORY "THE MYSTERIOUS RIDER"

One of the most fascinating productions ever seen in Appleton—a story of love, mystery and intrigue will be shown at the New Bijou Friday and Saturday. It is called "The Mysterious Rider" and it is adapted to the screen from the novel by Zane Grey.

A splendid all-star cast enacts the story, which is replete with rare comedy as well as drama, suspense, romance and adventure. The judicious injection and subtle treatment of comedy in the serious matter of the play is a feature which puts the audience in a strongly appreciative frame of mind.

The picture deals with the love affair of Columbine—ably and artistically played by the beautiful Claire Adams and Wilson Moore (Carl Gantvoort) while a little subplot funny enough and complete enough to be a comedy in itself depicts the efforts of the ranch cowboys to keep their unattractive, arrogantly inclined but professionally marvelous cook, Maria, from deserting the ranch because of her lonesomeness for a "steady." One of their number, Lem Billings, played by that master comedian, Frank Hayes, is forced by the drawing of a card, to become her suitor. With this situation as a base, a joyous little comedy is enacted, artistically paralleling the great serious theme of the story. Too much cannot be said of the highly talented aggregation of artists assembled by Benj. B. Hampton, the producer, for the proper enacting of this great story. THE HOUSE RULES

The small bloc of so-called progressives in congress, holding the balance of power between the regular Republicans and Democrats, has won a really notable victory for legislative honesty and efficiency by forcing an agreement upon the Republicans to consider changes in the house rules. While it is still too early to predict what the results of this agreement will be, because the proposals for amendments must go to the rules committee, reported out by it and acted upon on the floor of the house, with the privilege of offering amendments, it is probable that the methods of procedure will be altered in some important respects.

For many years the house chafed under the excessive and arbitrary power exercised by the speaker. It required a long struggle to divest him of this power, but in 1910 it was done. There is no question but what this change represented a great gain for the people. While the speaker was the czar of the house, it was comparatively easy to favor special interests and to block legislation to which these interests objected and which was for the public good. Not only was the opportunity presented, but the fact accomplished.

When the autocratic authority of the speaker was removed, control over legislation was transferred to the rules committee, the unofficial steering committee, the majority party floor leader and the speaker. These committees and leaders have control over all other committees, particularly in the matter of chairmanships and personnel. This arrangement has not proven satisfactory. It has expanded slightly, but not vitally altered, the domination of congress by a relatively small group. It has preserved the system of considering legislation in committee of the whole that ought to be considered on the floor, making it possible to dispose of bills without a record vote. The system also makes it impossible to bring before the house a measure which a committee suppresses, notwithstanding there may be a sufficient number of members in favor of the measure to warrant its discussion on the floor.

While it is true that a great deliberative body like the house of representatives must be subject to certain rules that will expedite legislation and make it impossible for the proceedings to be cluttered up with unimportant bills, and which will enable it to transact business against obstruction, it is also true that the house itself ought to have a larger degree of self-government than it now possesses. The rules should certainly be such that a majority of members can discuss, consider and vote upon any bill they may desire to. They should also be such that measures of great public concern shall be given a recorded vote.

So far as the efforts of the progressives go toward amendment of the rules along these lines, they should have the support of the people. It would be possible to make rules of such latitude as to frustrate legislation, and to make the house unwieldy and chaotic, and there should be no ill-considered revision that would go to this extreme. So long as it does not, revision which makes the house truly its own master will manifestly be in the interest of the people.

THE RESERVE BANK AND BRANCH BANKS

Do the people want a gigantic banking system, privately owned, controlling enormous quantities of money? Or do they prefer the Federal Reserve system, under public control and regulation? Under the one plan, such as we had before the Federal Reserve system, powerful groups can dominate the finance and commerce of the United States. Under the other the government, through its officers and representatives, can supervise banking for the public good.

Henry M. Dawes, comptroller of the currency, raises these questions in his annual report. Do we favor branch banks, or do we not? If we do, we must take precautions to save the Federal Reserve system from destruction. Most business men, and, it may be, many bankers have not grasped the seriousness of the question of branch banking. We must make our choice between the public-controlled Federal Reserve system and a privately owned string of branch banks.

The comptroller suggests that congress should authorize operation of branch banks by national banks wherever state banks have the privilege of operating branches. Wherever state banks have no permission to run branches, national banks should be restrained from running them.

It would be still better to make a through issue of the matter of branch banking and settle the whole thing at once. Perhaps the federal government could induce the states to prohibit branch banking. If it could not, then the plan advanced by Dawes is the practical alternative.

Occasionally we hear criticism of the Federal Reserve system itself. Some of our politicians, eternally on the lookout for something to find fault with, have charged that at times the Federal Reserve system has been operated detrimentally to the public interest. It is possible there have been errors of judgment from time to time in the extension or curtailment of credit, but any banking system must ultimately rely upon the human element for success or failure.

The trouble is that in some instances this kind of talk is used as a basis for an attack upon the Federal Reserve as a system. These short-sighted persons, who know very little about finance or banking, and who pose as champions of popular rights, would cause the public to forget the chaotic condition of our banking system before the adoption of the Federal Reserve. They forget that it took this country a good hundred years to evolve anything like a practical and sound banking system, and that commerce and industry were subjected to panics solely because we had an inelastic currency and because credits were arbitrarily manipulated from Wall Street.

The fact remains, in spite of all of the criticisms offered, that adoption of the Federal Reserve system was one of the greatest forward steps this country has ever taken in the management of its finances. A banking structure which went through the unprecedented strain of the World war without a ripple and with no suggestion at any time of a money panic, is hardly subject to the criticism of professional politicians. Wall street no longer determines the quantity of money or the extent of credit that may be allotted to the rest of the country. The Federal Reserve bank has the power, and it is a proper and legitimate power, to stop speculation any time it sees fit, and thereby to prevent the ruinous consequences of excessive inflation. We should be extremely cautious about tinkering with so valuable a monetary and banking system as we are so fortunate, as to possess. The question of branch banking is an important one, and we should have a solution of it that will in no wise impair the functions the Federal Reserve system is supposed to and actually does perform.

SLEEPING POSTURE

A poor fellow writes: "Proper position in sleeping is a matter which has engaged the attention of the members of the local Brady club; several members insist that you say any position which is comfortable is all right. Certain members are quoting you as defending positions which I think are open to serious criticism. Probably others are doing the same. One member, aged 53, still covers his head with the bed clothes (as we all did to hide from the bogey man). Another draws his knees up to his chin, with his backbone curled like a half moon, and declares his body is thus concentrated and keeps warmer. Another takes a peculiar position of back, neck and shoulders and has grown into this position or shape so firmly that he had to maintain it when awake. They all quote you in defense. I think many others are cultivating abnormal positions in sleep on the strength of your approval. I have always maintained that in sleeping one should stretch out full length, arms and limbs as straight as possible, back straight and neck straight and chest out. We would appreciate your comment on this sometime."

The correspondent is right—one should compose himself for sleep about as he describes. I prefer that posture. Any posture one prefers is good for sleep. There are various fancies about lying on the left side—or is it the right side?—to favor the heart or the circulation, or about lying with the head toward the north in order to favor some imaginary magnetic current, or about using a high pillow, a low pillow or no pillow at all in order to increase or decrease the circulation in the brain. My advice to all concerned is not to fixate rumination on these childish notions, but just curl up—or straighten out—and go to sleep.

It is only in the presence of certain disease conditions that a patient may find it better to sleep on one side or to keep off the back or to have the head up high or to dispense with the pillow. In such cases it is always an individual matter to be considered by the doctor. If an ordinary normal individual likes to sleep lying on his right ear and his left elbow, well and good, let him go to it. Young children sometimes show a peculiar preference for the knee chest posture in their sleep; in such cases it is often found that there is an obstruction to free breathing, in the shape of simple rhinitis, adenoids or greatly enlarged tonsils, the child instinctively assuming the posture which makes breathing easier. Parents should keep off the back when asleep, for that posture enables a snorer to tear off the most terrific rattle. Make 'em turn over.

Removal Of Moles
Please give me the name of somebody who uses the freezing method for the removal of moles. My daughter has a large one on the cheek.—W. J. H.

Chapping
The lotion recommended for redness roughness and chapping of the skin is made by slowly boiling and constantly stirring until dissolved, 80 grains of trisulphate of antimony, half an ounce of glycerine, three grains of boric acid and a pint of water. A little of this thin jelly is applied to the skin two or three times a day.

The Brass Check—For your shoe-maker.
Bread—For the cook.
Captain Blood—For the butcher.
Faint Perfume—For the fish merchant.
The Rising Tide of Color—For a blushing maiden.
A Son at the Front—For the mother of the theatregoer.

Here's another Christmas suggestion for you. In order that your husband may get his favorite brand of cigars at Christmas, 1924, start now to take out a cigar at regular intervals from his collection until you have laid aside about 50. He probably won't notice it and you are no money out.

Take our word for it, this gaff about the magic of mistletoe is a. We tried it out, and believe us, there is nothing in it. For two hours it was suspended over our head, and nothing happened.

HEAVEN HELP HIM! WE DASSN'T

This is what a havoc a little mistake in emphasis will raise. A man left home to go to sea. His wife asked the minister to pray for him. The clergyman read the announcement. "A man going to sea; his wife requests prayers of the flock." But the congregation understood it thus: "A man, going to sea (see) his wife, requests prayers of the flock." When the people burst into laughter, the minister made things worse by putting the emphasis on "man."

WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE WORLD

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

The White House announces America's willingness to be represented—UNOFFICIALLY—on international committees to get Germany's expenses down to, or below, her income to put German money on a basis where it will MEAN something as money; to learn the amount of German investments in foreign countries.

This is planned as a step toward learning what war damages Germany can pay—principally to France.

Each time such an investigation has been proposed before, at the last minute France has said she wouldn't agree to the investigators' report unless it suited her. And each time this has happened, America has said she wouldn't have a hand in it then.

No such difficulty has come up this time—NOT YET.

DEADLOCK IN CONGRESS

Week before last the "progressive bloc" wouldn't let the Republicans elect a speaker of the House of Representatives until they agreed to change the House rules to suit the "bloc."

LAST week the "progressives" tied up the chairmanship of the Interstate Commerce Committee.

This committee shapes railroad legislation, so it's very important.

Senator Cummins has been committee chairman, but now he's president of the Senate. Vice President Coolidge having moved on up to the White House.

However, he still wants that chairmanship. On the other hand, Senator La Follette, "progressive" leader, wants it, saying Cummins isn't entitled to both jobs.

The "progressives" hold the "balance of power" between Republicans and Democrats in the Senate as well as the House. They can't do anything themselves, but they can keep ANYBODY ELSE from doing anything. So at present Congress is deadlocked.

REBELLION IN MEXICO

The rebellion against President Obregon by those who want Adolfo de la Huerta for next president of Mexico hasn't been squelched yet. Instead the "Huertistas" appear to have gained ground and the "Obregonistas" are not reported putting up much of a fight this far, which is a surprise.

All indications are that De la Huerta represents the big, old-time land interests and great investors. Though Obregon's term expires soon, the "Huertistas" says he'll manage to get another man elected who favors the mass of the people for course, they don't express it quite like this if he's allowed to finish it.

London and Paris cables say the English and French will expect America to interfere to protect their Mexican investments if the rebellion endangers them.

POLITICS IN ENGLAND

Stirling Baldwin has decided to hang on awhile as English premier. He thought of resigning right after the recent election. True, the conservatives (his party) got more votes than either the Laborites or Liberals, but between them THEY got more than the Conservatives.

Then it came out that, if Baldwin quit King George would give the premiership to Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader, since the Laborites are the strongest party after the Conservatives.

Rather than have a Labor premier, it seems the Liberals will help the Conservatives on routine government questions. So Baldwin will try it for awhile anyway.

Of course, under this partnership arrangement, such policies will have to be "passed up" as Conservatives and Liberals can't agree on.

Q. Where are the most pins and needles made in this country? H. R. S.

A. Waterbury, Conn., is the center of this industry. Needles, pins, and hooks and eyes to the value of about $7,000,000 are manufactured there yearly.

Q. How many letters are sent through the mails? C. K.

A. The Post Office Department says that approximately 11,250,000,000 letters are handled by the department annually.

Q. What is considered the unluckiest letter in Greek? I. K.

A. Theta is sometimes called the unluckiest letter, from being used in Ancient Greece by the judges on their ballots when condemning a prisoner to death. It was used because it was the first letter of the Greek word for "death."

Q. How does the Saturday Evening

World Fair there was a large floral clock. What flowers were used to make this ornament? J. C. D.

A. The floral clock at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition had the dial, or of plants. The center of the dial and the rim were of verbenas, artemisia and coleus. There seems to be no record of the plants used for the numbers.

Q. Please give some information about Cecelia Beaux? W. B. R.

A. Cecelia Beaux was one of the distinguished American women painters. She is practically self-taught. William James said of her, "She suddenly becomes conscious that she was one of the competent ones of the great art collections of America. Her 'Dancing Lesson' has just been added to the works in the Chicago Art Institute."

The Canadian Rockies have been better advertised than those on this side of the line, but are no more beautiful scenically. It is probably true that there is no wonder in the Alps that is not suggested in Glacier National Park, while the latter is on a bigger scale than is the European playground.

CAPABLE ARTISTS SING PUCCINI'S SPLENDID OPERA

San Carlo Opera Company Presents
Madame Butterfly
In Pleasing Manner

To those who enjoy operatic productions, "Madame Butterfly" as presented at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Wednesday evening by the San Carlo Opera Co. was delightful. The quality of the voices and the way in which the entire opera was given was all that could be wished for from a company which travels from place to place. The scenery adapted itself well to the chapel stage.

Each of the main characters of the play took his part well and Miss Anna Fiumi was especially well received by the majority of her audience. Miss Elvira Leveroni, as Suzuki, had a delightful voice. Graham Marr in the role of the American consul did some splendid work and rather over shadowed the audience's appreciation of Maurizio Daluni as B. F. Flakerton.

The audience was somewhat disappointed by the fact that the opera was sung in Italian rather than English. The cast does not do the English translation but the idea that it would be sung in English was conveyed by the booking agent. Those who knew the story of the opera and the music well enough to follow the story and those who bought the librettos so that they could follow the theme soon overcame the difficulty.

AUDIENCE PLEASED
On the whole, comments from those who have heard the opera sung before and who have a basis for comparison with the metropolitan companies were favorable. The work of the orchestra was recognized as superior and the conductor, Aldo Frabretti, was well received.

The dust at the end of the first act was one of the best numbers of the entire opera. Many people who were not content with the music found the dramatic indication of the all night vigil at the end of the first scene of the second act very effective. The music of the orchestra, which included only 18 pieces, was especially good at that time.

Members of the Wednesday Musical club under which club direction the opera came to Appleton were congratulated heartily after the performance for bringing the program here.

Flashes Out Of The Air

The opera "Hansel and Gretel" (in English) by the Chicago Civic opera company, Auditorium theater, with Fabian, Pavloska, Claessens, and Maxwell in the leading roles will be broadcast by KTVW at 7:45 p. m. on 538 meters. Each preceded by a descriptive story of the opera. WJAG will be silent during the period of this broadcast.

SLUMBERING PLANTS DECEIVED BY WARM BREATH OF NATURE

Mild weather and rain appear to be deceiving to some of the plants that had reposed in slumber for the winter as soon as the first visit had been made by Jack Frost. At least that is the belief of W. Welmar, Sr., who is exhibiting some pussy willows that have made their debut months too early. The furry little buds were picked by him while walking along the bank of Fox river toward Grass. Grass has turned green again in places and here and there plants may be seen starting over again. One or two persons who had plants in sheltered places have found them blooming and have picked the flowers.

Honor Roll Of Good Fellows

The Good Fellows Club fund to bring Christmas happiness to Apple-ton's poor was boosted by $151.50 on Wednesday and now totals $559.50, slightly more than a third of the $1,500 which the five cooperating char-ities declare will be required for their work this year. Only four days re-main in which to gather the $920 that is needed. That means that more than $200 a day must be paid into the club. If the goal is to be reached.

Appleton never has fallen down in anything it undertook. The good peo-ple of our city have undertaken to provide a spark of Christmas happi-ness to about 200 families in needy circumstances. It would be a serious blot on the city's record if there are any families in Appleton without help on Christmas day because our people refused to help them.

You can help by clipping the coupon on page 2 of today's paper and sending it with your contribution to the Good Fellows club editor of the Post-Crescent.

POPULATION OF APPLETON IS ESTIMATED AT 23,473

INCREASE OF 3,912 SINCE 1920 CENSUS

City's Growth Greater In Last Four Years Than In Previous Ten

Appleton's population has increased 3,912 or 29 per cent from Jan. 1 1920 to Jan. 1, 1924, according to a population survey just completed at Washington, D. C. Appleton now has a population of 23,473, on the basis of the recent estimate. Local sources, including number of children enrolled in school and the number of water consumers were used. The population as recorded by the last census was 19,561.

Public school enrollment for 1923 is 3,469 as compared with 2,715 in 1919, a gain of 793 or 29.2 per cent. Increases for parochial schools, with enrollment of about 45 per cent of city schools is about the same.

Domestic water consumers numbered 4,243 in 1923 and 3,133 in the fall of 1919, a gain of 1,110 or 35.4 per cent.

RAPID GROWTH

According to these figures, Appleton's population has grown more in the last four years than in the previous ten. In 1910 Appleton had a population of 16,773 and in the ten year period to 1920 it had increased only 2,783. In the ten years from 1910 to 1920 the increase was only 1,633.

The vast number of new homes built in Appleton in the last two or three years indicates a big population increase. Hundreds of persons sought opportunity to move here because of excellent living and educational advantages but were unable to find homes. The new houses gave them a chance to come here.

Following are population estimates for 1923 and the figures obtained in the 1920 census:

	1920 census	1924 survey
Population	19,561	23,473
Males	9,404	11,285
Females	10,157	12,188
Citizenship (21)	11,771	14,125
Males	5,555	6,673
Females	6,206	7,447
Dwellings	4,216	5,052
Families	4,593	5,524

The survey, with definitely ascertained figures of increase, should not be classed with estimates announced from year to year on the mythical assumption that the growth of the city since 1920 has been at the identical rate of the period from 1910 to 1920.

PAY $4.965 459 FOR STATE AUTO LICENSES

By Associated Press
Madison—A total of $4,965,459.55 has been paid into the secretary of state's office in auto license fees during 1923, according to a recent report. Of this sum, $52,777 is for the registration and reregistration of trucks under the law passed by the 1923 legislature which compels all trucks and busses to register if they are above a certain weight and fixes the license fee for 1924 on a proportionate weight basis.

Although no final figures have been made it is thought that almost all truck and bus owners, required by the new law to reregister, have complied.

He Needs A Good Fellow

GOOD Fellows, here is an Appleton artist's conception of Christmas morning for some young stars. They may or may not be snowed on the ground on Christmas morning, but if there isn't the youngster will not be less unhappy.

The Good Fellows club doesn't propose to provide Christmas trees for the unfortunate children of Appleton but it does want to give them enough for Christmas so that the lack of a tree will not be so poignant a regret.

Folks in Appleton can help make Christmas happy for fellows like the one in the cartoon by sending their contributions to the Good Fellows Club, Editor of the Post-Crescent.

The cartoon was drawn by Lea Miller, a rising young cartoonist employed at the Conover hotel here. Mr. Miller is a world-famous skill with the pen and has promise of making a name for himself.

CITY PLANNER AND WIFE IN ACCIDENT

Word has reached Appleton friends of Prof. Leonard S. Smith, city planner, that he and Mrs. Smith were in an automobile accident near Baraboo last week. As they turned a sharp curve approaching Baraboo, the car turned over, throwing the occupants out. Mrs. Smith has a fractured rib while Prof. Smith was cut on the right eye. It was thought at first that his sight was impaired but his injuries are not serious. It was later determined.

KINSMAN SEES BENEFIT TO LABOR IN MODERN SYSTEM

That the capitalist regime has brought more to the working classes than any previous system is the opinion which Dr. D. O. Kinsman presented to the Noon Lunch club of Neenah last week. He said that the best solution of present day problems is the establishment of moral principles upon which to base the present system.

Dr. Kinsman said that in order to have constructive legislation, men of high intellect should be elected to office. In speaking of the legislature, the speaker said that it was a wonder that we got any constructive legislation, at all as a result of the last session. He urged for cooperation between capital and labor.

BANKS THREATEN SUITS TO RECOVER PROTESTED TAXES

Citizens National Bank Notifies Council That Court Action Is Started

Attention involving approximately $30,000 is threatened the city of Appleton, it was made evident at the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening. Formal notice was served on the city by the Citizens National bank of a suit in circuit court for recovery of $3,500 alleged to have been paid as illegal taxes. The first National bank also filed a claim of $17,500 to be refunded for payment of illegal taxes. A suit started by the local Elks lodge for over $20,000 also is pending in circuit court.

A resolution was presented by Theodore Bern, city attorney, authorizing the appointment of a committee of five members to confer with the banks, ostensibly with a view of settlement and although the resolution was passed by the council the appointment will be withheld until the Citizens National bank case is taken up in court. The bank's claim had previously been rejected by the council which fact, according to E. L. Williams, precluded the same council from rescinding its action and negotiating a settlement. The First National bank's claim was referred to the judiciary committee and the city attorney.

TAX BANK STOCK
Both bank cases hinge on a dispute between national banks and municipal authorities over the legality of taxing national bank stock. The United States supreme court in a decision at Richmond, Va., declared it unconstitutional for the state to tax national bank stock at a higher rate than that of other corporations. Since monies and credits are not taxable in Wisconsin and since banks were exempted from the income tax, it has been asserted that national bank stock cannot be taxed at all, and that all such taxes paid under protest last January were illegal. Congress on March 4, 1923, changed the law making taxation of national bank stock possible although constitutionality of state legislation to conform with it is challenged by the banks.

OFFERED COMPROMISE
National banks in Appleton a year ago offered to compromise with the city so that they would pay taxes on an income tax return basis. Now the banks are challenging constitutionality of the state law because it discriminates against banks in favor of other investment concerns. The city council Wednesday evening passed a resolution requesting the city assessor to prepare a list of all individuals and firms that operate an investment business. Alderman J. A. Wood, interpreting this as a movement to bolster up state law by placing these parties on the assessment roll, protested at first, but later acquiesced when he was informed that no such attempt is being made.

The suit of the Elks club against the city for refund of taxes which it is asserted, is illegal because the lodge is exempted by the state as a fraternal and benevolent order, is still pending in circuit court.

WOMAN INJURED
Notice of injury was served on the city by Katherine Derby who said she was tripped over a water pipe projection on

CITY SAVES $4,000 ON LAWE-ST BRIDGE

Cost Of Filling In Approaches Is Far Less Than First Estimates

By a fortunate combination of circumstances the city will save several thousand dollars on the fill for the approaches for the new Lawe-st bridge which is practically completed and which will be ready for traffic within a short time.

The filling was estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000 but by using the earth excavated for the new Trinity Lutheran church and for the addition to be built to Codway hotel the street department expects to reduce the cost by two-thirds. All the earth costs the city is the hauling.

It is expected the earth from these two sources will more than be enough for the north approach, where it is being used. The earth for the south approach will be secured by cutting down and opening Canalst on the south side of the river.

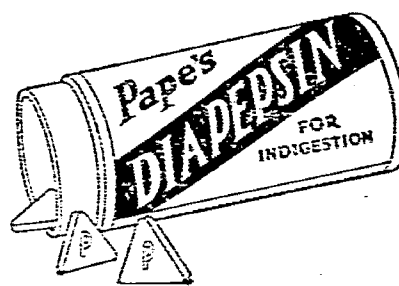

Ordinance in front of the Val Beyer home. The claim was referred to the judiciary committee.

The poor committee reported favorably on the condition of the city home but asked for several minor improvements. A new bath tub and lavatory have been installed, the fixtures having been donated by the Vocational school.

The Zwicker Knitting company asked for an addition to the local business district in which it is located to provide the company with room for future expansion. An amendment to the zoning ordinance will be necessary to make this possible. The request was referred to the ordinance committee.

GLOBE TROTTER, ON LONG HIKE, FREEZES

Frank Fletcher Dies At Superior As He Nears Walking Goal

By Associated Press
Superior—The frozen body of a man found in a haystack near the village of Oliver, seven miles west of this city last Sunday, was identified Wednesday as that of Frank Fletcher, noted globe trotter, who was on the last lap of a walk from San Francisco to Buenos Aires and around the United States a 28,000 mile hike, to win a wager from the American Athletic association.

The very specifications of the wager resulted in the man's death, as he was forbidden to utilize trains, automobiles, trolley cars, even roller skates, and to sleep anywhere but under the skies.

Identification of the corpse followed discovery of Fletcher's pack sack, in which were letters and pictures.

The sack was found late Wednesday near the scene of his death.

STARTED HIKE IN 1920

Fletcher started his long tramp June 19, 1920, and was on his return trip to San Francisco, the starting point of his hike. Letters from the police chief in every city of importance in the United States and the large cities of South America were found in the knapsack.

Fletcher's efforts revealed the fact that he had laid claim to having beaten the record of Edward Payson Weston, noted pedestrian, in walking from New York to San Francisco and in his last fatal attempt sought to surpass all former world walking records.

CROSSED DEATH VALLEY
Fletcher was 42 when he started his walk in 1920. His home was in Brewton Ala. 75 miles from Birmingham.

Fletcher claimed to be the only man who had ever crossed Death

Valley, California, on foot. He crossed this desert three times. Several days before his lifeless body was found near here, Fletcher was found in a semi-stupor by a local resident and taken to a hospital here. He left the hospital the next day. Fletcher claimed to be an ex-service man.

Harold Glaser of Grand Chute, is building an addition to his home.

SPREAD OVER 43 YEARS
This, of course, is to be spread over a period of 43 years, of which $1, 574,179 would be paid from now in 1923 and $2,271,480 from 1924 to 1967.
If all the ex-service men took the certificate plan, the legion estimates the total cost would be $4,456,545.975.
All took vocational training, the cost would be $2,995,000,000. If all took the farm and home aid and land settlement plan, the cost would be $1, 13,000,000.
No estimate, therefore, can be regarded as final except the one with respect to immediate cash payment.
would be possible of course, for the en holding adjusted service certificates to borrow at least half of the cost value of their certificates. Adjustment seems agreed that passage of the law would add at least three and one quarter billions of dollars to the public debt of the United States.

BIG FAMILY AND CHRISTMAS EASES DRUNK'S SENTENCE

Automobile Driver Wrecks Two Machines Before He Is Arrested

After crashing into two automobiles on Washington-st at midnight Wednesday, John Phillips, Route 1, Black Creek, found himself under arrest by Officer John Kobussen on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.
He was driving a truck belonging to Robert Miller of Sawyer, Wis., which he first ran into a taxicab of the Oscar Kuntz Taxi line which was parked on the right side of the street, and then continued on his way, swerved to the left and struck an automobile owned by Henry Omdorff, Juneau hotel, Milwaukee. The left front and rear fenders of the taxicab were ruined, and on the Milwaukee car the tire rack and gasoline tank were damaged.
In municipal court Thursday morning Phillips told Judge A. M. Spencer that he was returning home after having been initiated into a local lodge.
Because he has a large family to support and because Christmas is near, Phillips received a Christmas present from the judge in the form of leniency. A fine of $30 was substituted for a workhouse sentence.

COLLECT LICENSES ON DOGS ON JAN. 1

John Hantschel, county clerk, has just shipped the 1924 dog tax supplies to all local treasurers in the county.
Dog tax collection will begin with the collection of the other taxes. The license year is from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31.
An attempt in the last legislature to repeal the dog tax law failed; hence the same fees remain in effect. $2 for each female dog and $1 for each male dog or spayed female dog. The license applies only to dogs over six months of age. The tax is collected by the local treasurer and turned over to the county which holds it for payment of possible damage claims. At the end

BRANDT COMPANY APPEALS VERDICT TO HIGHER COURT

O. J. Rossmessl Estate And Brandt Co. Given Verdicts By Jury

The difference between $225 awarded the plaintiff and $168.62 awarded the defendant in the suit of the estate of O. J. Rossmessl vs. August Brandt company is given the plaintiff by the verdict returned by a jury of 12 men in municipal court Wednesday evening. The case went to the jury about 5:30 in the evening and the verdict was rendered at 9:30.
The Rossmessl estate sued the August Brandt company for approximately $500 which they said was due them on a used Ford chassis said to have been sold for new. The defendant admitted that the chassis was a used one but declared that the plaintiff was aware of the fact when it made the transaction. This testimony and other of the same nature was stricken out on account of the fact that O. J. Rossmessl is not living and therefore could not give his testimony in the matter.
The garage company had filed a counterclaim demanding $152.82 for labor repairs, gasoline and unpaid credit accounts. This amount was awarded the defendant by the court.
After the case was concluded, Free-V. Heinemann, attorney for the defendant, declared he would ask for a new trial. He made the following statement:
"The defendant will at once prepare motions to set aside the verdict as the same is contrary to law, contrary to the undisputed evidence and prejudicial. A motion for a new trial will also be made for misconduct of the jury and upon the ground that newly discovered evidence will be produced."
Attorneys Ryan and Carey represented the plaintiff in the case.

at a south side store. He is Edward Werner, 1034 Eleventh-st., and is 15 years of age. At the city jail he confessed. His examination was set for

BELIEVE FEAR WAS CAUSE OF SUICIDE

Fond Du Lac Woman, Freed
From Custody, Kills Self
By Taking Poison

By Associated Press
Fond du Lac—Mrs. Mamie Burns who was released from custody Thursday in connection with the Campbellsport post office robbery, committed suicide at noon here
Thursday by swallowing poison.
Mrs. Burns was arrested with her husband, Matt Burns, when Thomas Murray, Frank Ward and James White were found in the Burns home during a raid by the local police.
After lengthy questioning by the police and postal inspectors, Mrs.
Burns is said to have told of the division of a large amount of postage stamps by Murray, Ward and White.
The information collected by the police did not implicate the woman in a series of robberies for which Murray, Ward and White are being held.
Police could not assign a reason for the woman's act other than fear that friends of the men held would seek to harm her because of her story to the police. During the raid on the Burns home, all of the stamps taken in the Campbellsport robbery were found hidden between the leaves of a magazine. In addition to this, a pistol identified as one taken in a recent robbery of a hardware store was recovered. Mrs. Burns has lived in Fond du Lac for a number of years.

Take the Drudgery Out of Housecleaning!

Housecleaning need not be the bugbear that it has long been regarded in many households.

If the work is carefully planned, if the kind of furnishings that are easy to keep clean are chosen and handled in the right way, and if provision is made for keeping all the dirt possible out of the house, there will be no need for the upheavals that result in discomfort to the entire household.

How to make this task simpler and easier is discussed in a booklet when this Bureau has for free distribution. Any reader can secure a copy of this Government publication by filling out and mailing the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage.

These Women Won't Be Scrubbing In Their Old Age

You will find grey haired women scrubbing the floors of office buildings at night, in any big American city. They are there because those upon whom they depended for security in old age failed to save and invest wisely for old age income. (By the way, there are plenty of laws protecting women from working at night in most of the clean, safe fairly well paid occupations, but there seems to be no law protecting them from doing the hardest and poorest paid labor day or night.)

Milwaukee Electric and Wisconsin Gas & Electric have more than 8,000 Wisconsin women investors. Most of them are owners of our preferred shares. A trifle more than half of the total have invested jointly with their husbands; at the death of either, the survivor becomes sole owner of the shares without delay or expense. In some cases, mother and daughter buy shares jointly. Other thousands are wage-earning women investing regularly a part of what they earn to provide their own protection against want in old age.

Buying Milwaukee Electric 7% cumulative preferred shares, they become preferred owners of a PERMANENT industry; a State-regulated monopoly; a business growing rapidly and solidly year after year; a business that supplies basic necessities for one of the largest and richest industrial districts in the United States; a business that for nearly twenty-four years past has paid its preferred share dividends in cash regularly every three months, and that has paid common share dividends averaging 8% every year for the last twenty years.

Many of our women investors buy shares of each new issue that the State authorizes us to sell to finance growth of the business. They are concentrating their savings in this business, gradually building up an investment whose 7% income, as dependable as 3% bank interest, will make them safe against having to go out and drudge for bread in their old age.

Milwaukee Electric 7% preferred shares now on sale cost $100 each. You can buy them paying all cash or $5 down and $5 a month per share. Either way you get 7% on every dollar invested, from the start. Come in and talk it over with us, or let us send a salesman or a Circular, with full details. Mail orders filled by registered letter.

SAILSTAD AND GIRL ARE HAPPY IN JAIL

Couple Won't Try To Give Bail
When Arranged In Superior Court

By Associated Press
Superior—Surrounded by family and friends, Edward J. Sailstad, and his "sunshine girl," Dorothy Anderson, are as happy as any one could be within the confines of a jail.

They will forego proffered bail after they are arraigned on charges of arson late on Wednesday, preferring to remain in jail until sentenced rather than be at liberty. This was the word given District Attorney R. E. Kennedy on Wednesday.

The pair who burned a dead man's body in Sallstad's summer cottage at Lake Nebagamon three years ago to cover a disappearance plot, have the sympathy of an endless line of friends and relatives visiting the Douglas county jail. Brought back from Napa, Calif., where they were discovered, the couple have come under the calcium glare of public opinion and interest of hundreds.

Since their arrival, Sailstad's mother, Mrs. Augusta Sailstad, has been a daily visitor at the jail. His sisters and three brothers have been there often, too. Each time Dorothy is in the jail in the family group behind the jail bars and she has been received into the family circle.

Both are ready to "face the music," they said on Wednesday. Judge F. S. Parker in Municipal court probably will hold them for a higher court and "trial will be set as early as possible. They are expected to plead guilty to the preferred charge of arson and as each other share serious charges which might be brought.

Local Boy's Melody Put On Record

Mr. Tillman lived in Appleton for about four years and is a brother of Mrs. Peter Traas. At present he is the head of the Edwin Tillman Music company of Milwaukee. Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with a cough and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any drug-store can supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds. There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

An amendment such as Representative Browne proposes was recently adopted in a special election in Oklahoma and led to the impeachment of Governor Walton.

Premier Of Britain Has Pal In Wife

Politics Do Not Ruin Disposition of Husband, Mrs. Baldwin Says

BY WANDA VON KETTLER
London — "Politics do not ruin my husband's sweet disposition," Stanley Baldwin, just emerged from a gruelling, discouraging test election for vindication or defeat of his premiership and protection program, gets this tribute from his wife. Quietly, convincingly, simply she repeated to me her confidence in her husband.

It was before the general elections that I went to see Mrs. Baldwin, just to satisfy for myself what kind of a woman the wife of one of Great Britain's greatest men can be.

The dark, drizzly day was not the kind to make dreary and dismal Downing street look any better. But I felt good when I came into a woman's boudoir, elegantly arranged with antique furnishings and, best of all, a cheerful fireplace heaped with fragrant burning logs.

A good looking woman of middle age and medium height rose to greet me. She was wrapped in a carmine colored gown of beaded silk. A long rope of pearls loosely encircling her throat. She put timid me at ease by saying:

"Please do not be alarmed by my attire. It just happens I am to sit for a painting."

"And you, known to be one of England's busiest women?" I gasped. "I wonder you have time to sit."

HOME THEORIES
"Well, I haven't much time," she admitted—the election was so close at hand and she was in the midst of the campaign.

Yet she had time to expound to me some of her pet theories.

First, that a wife, if convinced her husband's policies are good policies, should support him in every way.

Second, that a wife's fundamental duty is to make a home. Mrs. Baldwin has two boys and four girls and she sees to it that wherever they live is first of all a home.

Third, that the wife must see that her husband gets his needed recreation. Which is why she insisted that her husband, while premier, spent his week-ends quietly at Chequers, the country home given, the government for use of all British prime ministers.

ALWAYS HAPPY
"Mr. Baldwin," said she to me, "has been in politics practically all the time we have been married—about thirty years—and we have never had a quarrel. Some women say they don't want their husbands in politics because of its effect upon their temperaments. My husband has remained unchanged."

"Maybe you have largely helped keep his temper sweet," I ventured. "Well—a little perhaps," she said, "but not a great deal. He is just that kind of man."

A footman appeared, announcing the portrait painter had arrived. "Some noted artist," I asked. "Oh, no," Mrs. Baldwin replied, "just a young woman who is making a start. She seemed to want me to sit for her and I figure it does no harm to help out, or give a lift if you can."

FASHION HINTS

SPRING CAPES

The small capes for spring frequently are caught up on one shoulder with a buckle or a tie fastening, instead of coming together in the conventional manner under the chin.

PEASANT FROCKS

Peasant frocks of jersey or crepe have elaborately embroidered blouses and very finely plaited skirts.

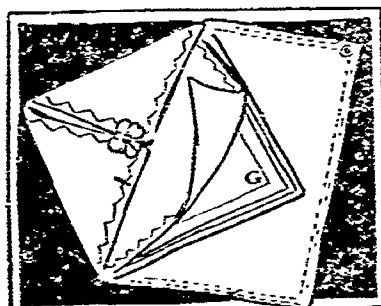

WHITE FANS

Fans of white ostrich feathers are carried this season with the all-white costume.

RED FOX DYED

Red fox dyed to a vivid orange, is effectively combined with dark green or wood brown suits.

Christmas Gift Ideas

KERCHIEF CASE

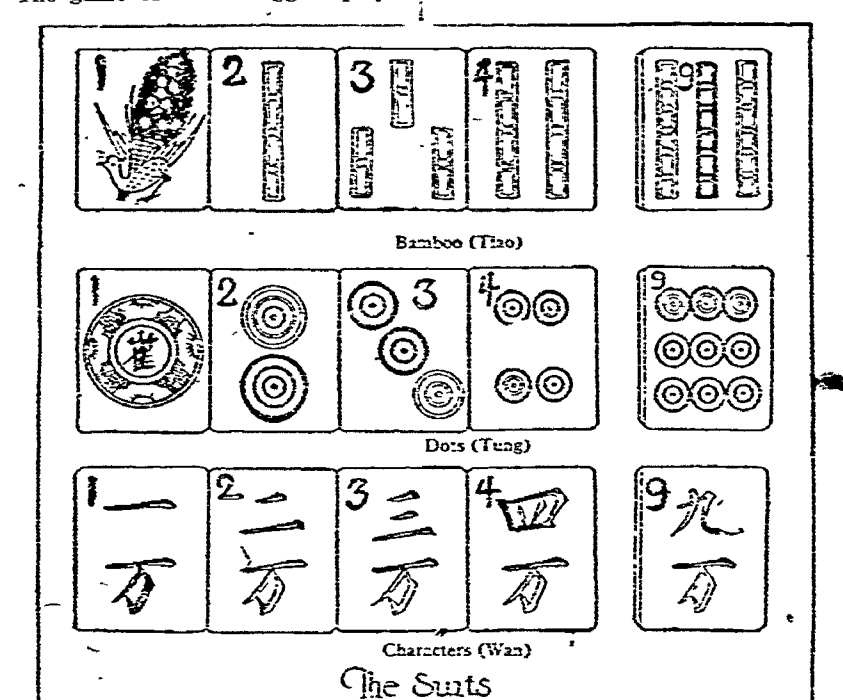

Something new and unique is this pretty, feminine handkerchief case. Its foundation is a cardboard pad about eight inches square, covered with cotton batting, dusted with sachet and sewed into a soft china silk cover. A double china silk cover on one side acts as a flap under which the handkerchiefs are kept. Over all this comes a dainty pink or blue case coming together like four triangular flaps and snapped underneath a tiny rosette of the same material.

MAH-JONGG

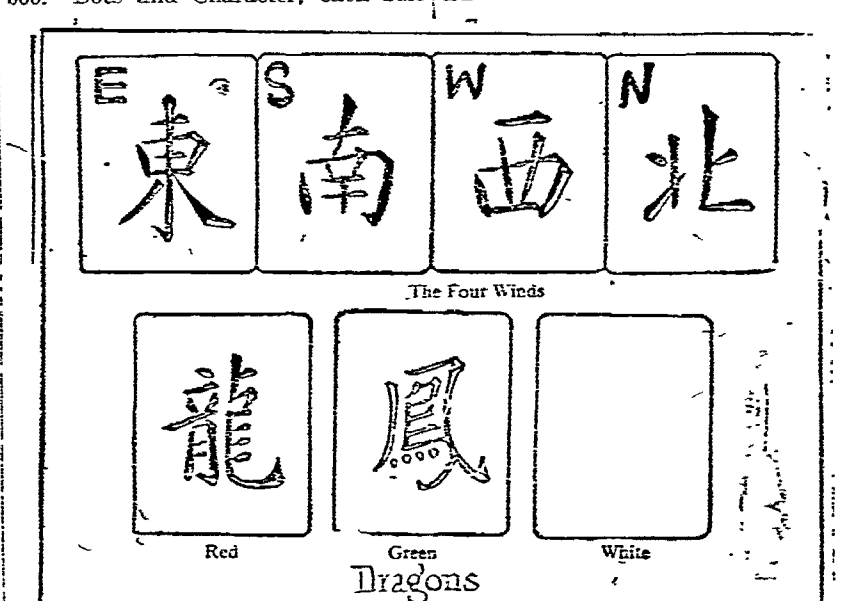

BY J. P. BABCOCK
Leading Mah Jongg Authority and Author of Babcock's Red Book of Rules

(Mah Jongg, the game of oriental, easily distinguishable from suit this mysticism has seized the popular fancy and swept the country. It is absorbing, fascinating and every-body wants to play it. The Post-Crescent will help its readers to learn the game through a series of articles by J. P. Babcock, leading Mah Jongg authority. The first article appears below, and the others will appear on this page. Watch for them. Editor.)

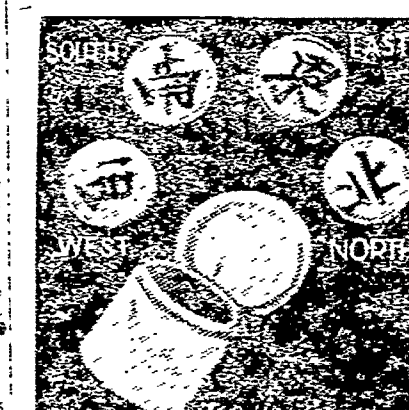

NO. 1—LEARNING THE SET
The game of Mah Jongg is played with 144 tiles (or pieces), divided into three suits and honor cards. There is a variation of the game played with seasons and flowers. Of this I will treat later. The three suits are those of Bamboo, Dots and Character, each suit containing 36 pieces, running from the one to the nine, with four of each number. All pieces are marked consistently for easy identification except the one spot of the Bamboo. On account of possible confusion with the two of the same suit, this piece has been marked with the Chinese Hemp Bird.

Honor cards are divided into Winds and Dragons. These are

Dormitory Is Best For Small Folk Of Home

There are mothers who hold the opinion that they really owe to each child of theirs the privacy of an individual room. "It isn't quite fair to let Bobby and Jack share the same room," Bob is more aggressive. "I am afraid Jack will be dominated by him." Not infrequently you hear remarks like that.

When you go through some home school for children or a boarding school for very young children and you see dormitories where four or six or even more children sleep within the same four walls, and you begin to wonder. It all looks so pleasant and sociable. Certainly no child could long remain lonesome in a room like that.

Extra Guests Were Handled In Unique Way

A clever woman with a large rambling farmhouse in the country discovered a convenient way of caring for her guests. It was not unusual to have five or six extra, many of them arriving unexpectedly and being persuaded to stay. There were always plenty of beds, couches and swings which could be pressed into service, but there was only one bottle. She had a large sheet, first into the bathroom and on this were six small baskets—little round market or fruit baskets were used—and around the rim of each was painted a band of a different color. In each basket was placed a tiny cake of soap, a small tooth-brush with a little glass, a tiny tube of tooth-paste, and a wash-cloth with a border corresponding to the color of the basket. On a hook under the sheet—one for each basket, hung a towel, similarly colored, sewed to one side of which was a tape by which to hang it.

These were always ready, and there was never any confusion of toilet articles, for each guest was given a basket in which to keep his things, and kept it as long as he remained. Since the house was built before days of electricity and had still the old-fashioned coal-oil lamps, some emergency method of lighting the guests to bed also seemed necessary, as the living-room lamps were too large to carry about conveniently. So six old-fashioned sconces, each with a hand dipped candle, were arrayed on the wall, one for each guest. The guest could find his light at hand. Several small lamps were of course provided for those who chose an hour of reading before retiring for the night.—Edith Smith, in The Designer Magazine.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

(Unless otherwise specified, these recipes are planned for four persons.)

PORK
Pork, if well cooked and carefully combined with other foods, is not as indigestible as we ordinarily believe. Plan the meals thoughtfully when pork is the meat and enjoy the deliciousness of this much maligned meat during the winter months.

The vegetables in this list combine well with pork:

Irish or sweet potatoes, cabbage or cauliflower, onion, plant, turnips, or steamed tomatoes. The Irish potatoes should be mashed, plain boiled or baked or roasted with the roast. The sweet potatoes should be baked or candied.

Apple sauce is the time-honored accompaniment for roast pork and is most acceptable with pork in any form. Apples can be used in the salad if sauce does not accompany this meat.

The salads should be simple but piquant. Pork is a fat meat, even the lean of it, and a tart touch is needed. Shredded cabbage, apple-celery-nut salad with a light dressing, grapefruit with a plain oil dressing, or a tomato jelly combined well. The salad of course depends on the vegetable chosen. For instance, a tomato jelly should not be used with stewed tomatoes, nor shredded cabbage with cooked cabbage or cauliflower.

The dessert should be light if the pork was in the form of a roast, but could be rather substantial if pork chops were the meat. Steamed fruit puddings, fruit wafers or gelatin or a fruit pie with one crust offer a good choice.

This menu may suggest other combinations:

Temple Bouillon
Stuffed Pork Chops
Candied Sweet Potatoes
Apple Sauce
Creamed Cauliflower
Combination Salad

Prune Whip
The creamed cauliflower brings milk into the menu.

The salad is interesting and tart enough for the pork without hurrying the cream sauce.

The dessert, being made with white of egg, adds the needed protein to a menu lacking in it.

The group and tea furnish the necessary digestant.

STUFFED PORK CHOPS

Two cups stale, coarse bread crumbs, 1/2 cup shelled chestnuts, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, warm water to make moist.

Order chops cut at least one inch thick. Allow one for each person to be served.

Chops cut correctly and mix with bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Add water and mix with a fork. Cut a pocket in each chop, from the outer edge into the bone. Fill with dressing and on the edges together with pepper and roll in flour. Put in roaster and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

WINTER COUGHS AND COLDS

With the changeable weather which we have at this season of the year coughs and colds are very prevalent. Be prepared for them. Have a bottle of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND handy, and with the first sign of a cough or cold take a dose and prevent a serious ailment. FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND has been the standard family cough remedy for over 45 years bringing prompt relief and when once used you will never be without it. Sold everywhere.

Table Should Be Set Right For Breakfast

The care and precision with which a dinner table is set marks the correct and up-to-date hostess. No matter how elegant the linen, silver and china, careless or slovenly arrangement ruins the table.

Breakfast, as a family affair, is always a most informal meal. Even with house guests the meal is simple and the hour apt to be variable. But the same care should be in evidence as to the placing of silver and dishes as if the meal were of many courses and of great formality.

The linen may be doilies, a gay breakfast cloth spread over the bare table, runners and mats, or a large breakfast square used over the silencer.

The "set-up" usually consists of knife, fork, dessert spoon and butter spreader. If whole fruit is used a fruit knife should be placed at the extreme right. If half an orange or grapefruit is served the spoon is placed at the top of the plate. If soft-boiled eggs are served a tea knife is placed at the right of the plate. If a knife is not needed it should not be placed on the table.

PROPER POSITIONS
Forks are always placed with the tines upward, spoons with the bowl upward and knives with the cutting edge toward the plate. Forks are placed to the left of knives, and placed to the right of the plate. Thus silver is laid one inch from the edge of the table, each piece an equal distance from another.

The butter spreader is placed across the upper right-hand side of the butter plate which is placed above the fork. This is the correct place for the bread and butter plate, place for the spreader for any meal.

The order of service is as follows: Fruit served on a small plate or the special dish for its service. This is placed on a larger plate. When the fruit is finished the spoon or knife should be placed across the fruit plate parallel with the edge of the table. The plate with the fruit is removed, leaving the large plate.

SERVICE PLATE
Next the cereal is served in cereal dishes. These are placed on the large plate. When the cereal is finished the spoon is left in the dish.

By number, the table below has been devised. A brief study of it will enable one to determine at a glance just which size can will be required:

No. 1	2 11-16	4
No. 2	3 7-16	4 9-16
No. 2 1/2	4 1-16	4 3/4
No. 3	4 3/4	4 7/8
No. 10	6 3-16	7

Finger bowls are often used after the fruit course at breakfast time. They may be placed on the table with the fruit if a maid is not in attendance. They should be put above the plate.

The water glass is placed above the knife and the napkin is laid beside the fork, an inch from the edge of the table. The corner should be at the lower right. Breakfast napkins are small, from 15 to 18 inches square and are folded oblong.

GOOD START
If the coffee is served at the table the hostess puts the creamer on each saucer before it is passed. The center place may be a dish of fruit attractively arranged or a low bowl of flowers.

The early breakfast is perhaps the "sketchiest" meal of the day, for the average housekeeper usually has more duties than she has time for. But it's quite as expeditious to set a neat, precise table as a careless one, and the food tastes much better.

Finger bowls after fruit may seem unnecessary, but when you stop to think that they prevent stained napkins they are very much worth while.

Numbers Used To Indicate Size Of Cans

Although there are cans of many sizes and shapes to be found on the shelves of the grocery stores, certain standard sizes of cans for fruits, vegetables, and other largely used products have been agreed upon. These are known to the grocer by number.

Canned corn, for instance, is packed in what is known as a No. 2 can, tomatoes, if a large size is wished, should be ordered by No. 3; if mere for sauce or for a small family, No. 1 size may be sufficient.

Fruits are to be had usually in either No. 2, No. 2 1/2, or No. 3 cans, and so on through the list of most commonly used products with the exception of milk, fish, and meats, which are packed in cans of distinct sizes.

For the convenience of those who prefer to order their canned foods by number, the table below has been devised. A brief study of it will enable one to determine at a glance just which size can will be required:

No. 1	2 11-16	4
No. 2	3 7-16	4 9-16
No. 2 1/2	4 1-16	4 3/4

Household Suggestions

KEEP BUGS AWAY

Never set platters or bowls away on shelves if they are sticky or contain sticky food because this is the quickest way there is to invite bugs.

RUSTPROOF TINWARE

Before you use your new tinware rub it well with lard and heat it in the oven. This will insure it against rust.

DURABLE PAINT

Carriage paint is particularly strong and resists wear, and is said to be excellent for floors and for painted furniture.

SOILED WALL PAPER

When cleaning wall paper remember that you can easily mar it by hard rubbing, so use a soft cloth like outing flannel, and use very little pressure on your strokes.

COLD MEAT

When you have small pieces of cold meat left from a meal remember they can be chopped and used in an omelet or combined with rice and tomatoes and used for a scalloped dish.

SOAKING CLOTHES

Soaking clothes for a long time is not advisable, for while this loosens the dirt it raises throughout the fabric. An hour is quite sufficient.

MILK BOTTLES

Milk bottles should always be washed on the outside before putting them in the refrigerator.

BEATING EGGS

Eggs, for custards and puddings that are required to be smooth and creamy rather than light, should be beaten with horizontal strokes so as not to take in too much air. A plentiful water will prevent them from becoming too frothy.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO THE GAY LITTLE MARQUISE, IN CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

I have thought about you a good deal, dear little Marquise, in the weeks that I have been ill, and I wondered if the love of a King was any different from the love of any other man.

Of course, your love was different from mine, because you had to keep it in your secret heart. That must have been torture. You could never have been the woman to whom, like me, a lady was given. Possibly—on tragic thought—you might have been one of those distracted mothers who placed her babe upon the doorstep of some high lady of the court.

You see, I weave all sorts of stories about you. This little drawer where you and I have come at least 500 years apart is still a meeting place where one woman's soul may speak across the void to the soul of another woman.

Many things have happened since I wrote you last. Today I went driving for the first time and the dear friend who was with me at the time of the accident came to bolster up my courage and renew my faith in myself by going with me on my first trip.

"You were not to blame, Leslie," said Ruth Ellington. "Anybody is liable to have a piece of the machinery in his car break. Let's not talk about it any more. It is all right now."

When we left, the baby was out with his nurse and Ruth did not see him, but during the ride, when she asked me, "Is it possible Leslie that you have not the slightest idea who put that baby in front of your door? It was very mysterious, wasn't it? I wonder why you were picked out of all the people in this great city? Have you tried to find out anything about the boy's parentage?"

I confess I was a little annoyed. I never knew Ruth before to be so curious. I presume I answered her rather abruptly when she spoke of it the second time.

"No, dear, I haven't the slightest idea to whom that baby belonged. I only know some woman's heart must have broken, some woman's life must have been laid in shattered ruins about her, some woman's future must have seemed from that moment to be a blank as she saw that darling baby to me."

To me, my dear Ruth, the whole thing was a miracle which some beneficent Fate worked out for me, but Jack in his usual practical manner remembered that the baby was placed in front of our door the morning after that long piece came out in the paper, explaining that they feared for my life or reason and that the doctors thought the only thing that could have me would be putting another baby in my arms."

"That seems plausible," said Ruth after a slight pause. "but I believe I never could rest without knowing something more about it."

"I haven't the slightest curiosity, Ruth. I hope I shall never know. As it is now, not only I but you and everybody else in a few years will have forgotten that the child was not born to me."

I changed the subject then, but since, little Marquise, I've been wondering who Ruth had on her mind. TOMORROW—Another letter to the Marquise—Ruth Ellington's curiosity.

every minute to keep them from danger. When they quivered, I straighten out their troubles. If they get lost, I bring 'em home. That's why I'm so thin. I'm always on the jump."

"It's funny we never saw you before," said Nick thoughtfully.

"No, funny at all," cried Mister Dodger. "You wouldn't see me now if you hadn't your magic shoes. They not only take you any place you wish to go, but give you all sorts of fairy gifts besides. Well, well, well! Time's going and we'd better go to work."

Adventures Of The Twins

Mister Dodger's House

Mister Dodger's house in the cornfield was nothing more nor less than a cornshock.

There were many other cornshocks in the field and they all looked exactly alike, piled up in points like Indian wigwags. But they weren't alike at all—that is, Mister Dodger's house was different from the others, as the Twins were to find out.

Once inside the narrow doorway they shouted with delight, for the large room in which they found themselves was lighted up with lanterns and decorated with autumn leaves of every color.

"Isn't it lovely?" exclaimed "Why is it so funny?"

Mister Dodger took off his cornhusk hat and knickerbockers, and of his cornshock pipe, up to his part of "Fairland!" he said mysteriously. "It's a great secret. No one knows it at all—or about me. And now if you will sit down I'll tell you all about everything."

Down popped the Twins. They had met many famous or their adventures but none more interesting than Mister Dodger, and they were anxious to hear what he had to say.

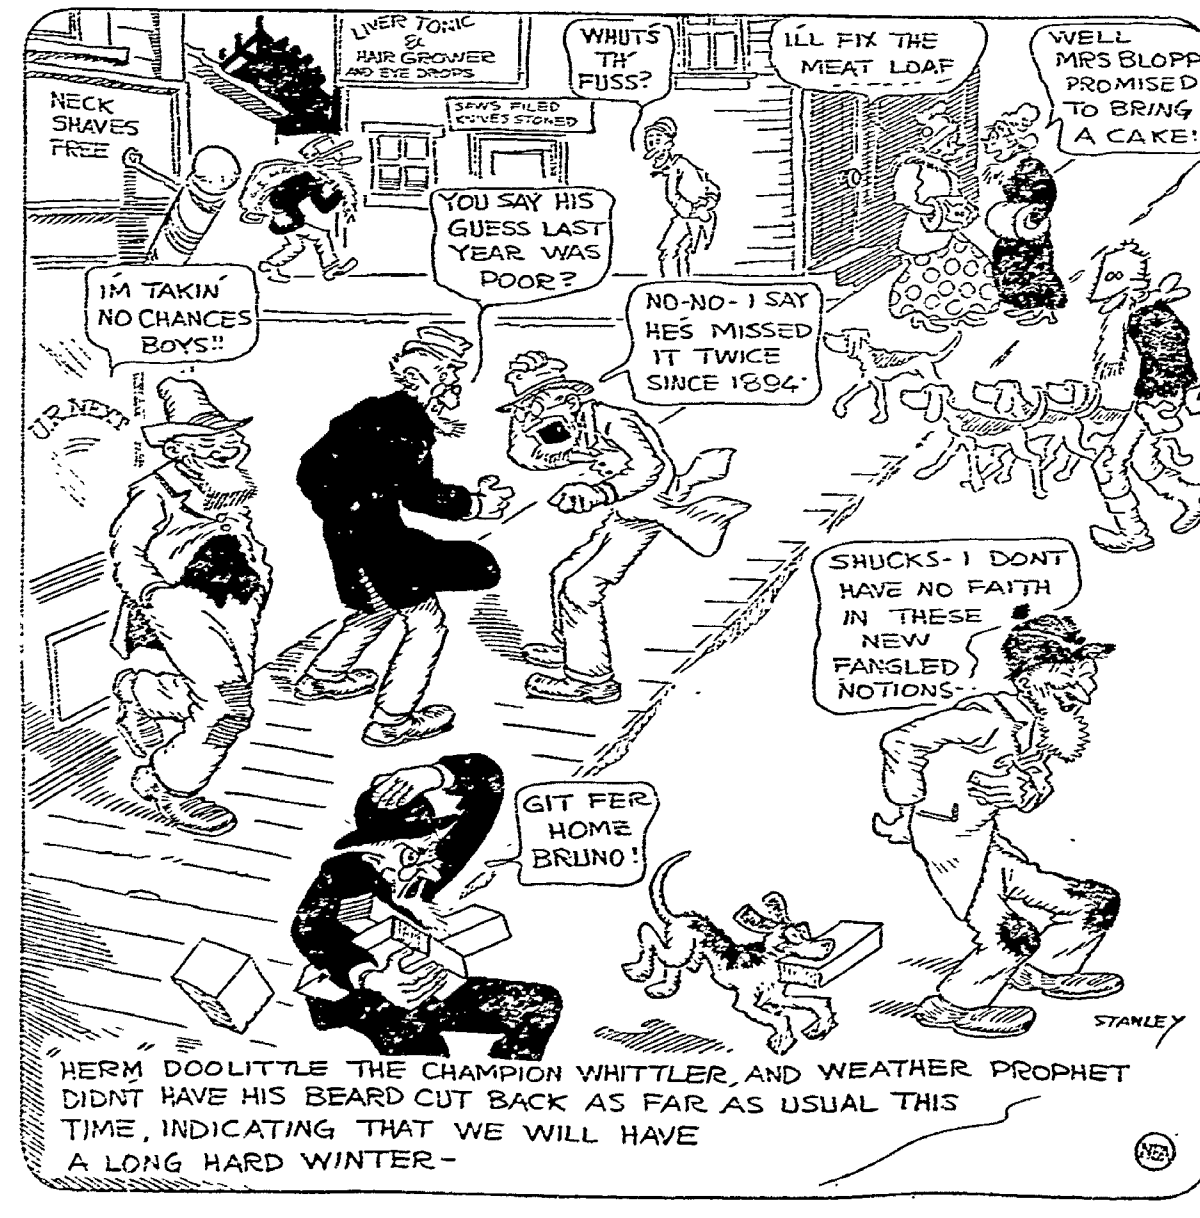

"It's this way, children," went on the queer little fellow. "It's my duty to look after the farmyard folk and see that nothing happens to them. Did you ever think how the cows and ducks and sheep and chickens and pigs and turkeys are all allowed to run around all day without a soul to look after them?"

"Farmer Brown thinks they are all fed and turned out for the day, that that is all," said Julius. "He expects the cows to come home at milking time, and the chickens to come home at roosting time, and the pigs to come home at feeding time just as though they all were watchdogs and knew just when to do things."

"Well, sir, they don't know a thing! That's why they're called dumb animals, I suppose. At least they don't know much, and I have to be the brains for the whole shut-in nation. Besides I watch them!

ZWICK-MEISSNER GO ASSURED FOR NEW YEAR DAY

Sheik And Claimant Of State Crown Sign For Appleton Fight

Elmer Johnston Engages Sluggers For All-star Prelims; Semi-final Boxers Still In Doubt

Jack Zwick, Kaukauna Sheik, and Archie Meissner, Menominee slugger, finally have signed articles and posted forfeits for their bout at armory G on New Year afternoon which had been pending for several weeks, according to an announcement by Elmer Johnston, Appleton fight promoter.

Johnston had been trying to match these fighters for more than a year, but until now had been unable to do so. Fans throughout the state are watching both Zwick and Meissner. The Menominee slugger has been sweeping all before him and claims the championship of the state, while the Sheik is going stronger than ever after coming out of his recent slump.

A preliminary card of high merit has been arranged to supplement the main go. King Schwabs of Hortonville will clash with Steve Risley of Green Bay in the opener. "The Flash" and Dewey Brazill, local stars, follow in the second preliminary bout. Johnston plans to enter a Fond du Lac man with one from Marinette in the semi final but refuses to announce the names until the fighters have been signed.

Schwabs and Risley are known to Appleton fans as class little fighters, and will bring numerous supporters from their respective home towns with them. Hendricks showed the results of Zwick's training in his previous bouts here, and won a host of friends among local enthusiasts. Brazill, the local boy, went into the Green Bay fight in which he was put to sleep recently, without proper training. This time he has had plenty of time to get set, and it is expected that "Wahsie" will have all he can do to keep from getting a quietus here.

It is seldom that a bunch of stars such as Johnston has assembled goes together on a single card in this vicinity, and according to indications, the house will be sold out long before the first gong sounds.

CHOOSING BACKS FOR ALL-AMERICA TEAM IS BIG JOB

Galaxy Of Backfield Stars In Past Season Makes Choice Difficult

Football experts who insist on picking All-America teams this year are going to make a lot of folks sore and create many enemies. The woe of the experts is certain to be centered around the backfield selections. Seldom has there been such a galaxy of backfield stars as this year.

There is Grange of Illinois, the sensation of the west. Michigan offers Kipke, one of the outstanding players of the year. Minnesota has Martin, Notre Dame, Don Miller. Ohio State has workman.

Illinois State is Wilson, who practically unassisted beat the Argonauts of Pennsylvania. Against each of these teams Wilson made three long runs for touchdowns.

Tale has Mallory, Stevens and Richardson, three great backs. West Virginia boasts Nardacci, Carnegie Tech. Robertson. In Troy, Colgate has one of the great backs of the year, while Syracuse offers Zimmerman, Bowman and McBride.

BASING QUINT PLANS HOLIDAY GATE TOUR

Manitowoc, Brillion And Berlin On Program Of Appleton Pro Five

Basing's Sports, undefeated pro basketball team of Appleton, has arranged a series of three games on Dec. 26, 27, and 28, with Manitowoc, Brillion and Berlin three of the strongest quint of their class.

The Manitowoc Shipbuilders have been copying the majority of their games this season. Brillion has lost but one game, and Berlin is undefeated. Gustin and Eaton, former stars of the Ripon college five, make the Brillion quint one to be feared by any team, and while the Appleton Sports boast a string of former high school and college aces, they are expecting plenty of work on their holiday tour.

MARQUETTE QUINT HUMBLER 27-7 BY WISCONSIN TEAM

Spooner Scores Nine Points For Winners; Badgers Show Brilliant Offense

By Associated Press Milwaukee. Superior basket shooting combined with a smooth, short passing offense enabled the University of Wisconsin to win the Cardinal's annual tilt with Marquette at the Auditorium Wednesday night, the score being 27 to 7.

The clever floor work of the Cardinals at times bewildered the Hill-toppers and many a loose dribble from center and a short shot under the basket helped swell the winners' count.

The game was a test of the effectiveness of two widely different offenses. Wisconsin used an interweaving, fast passing, revolving attack that ended with an accurate loop into the basket. Marquette massed its players in front of the Cardinal's five man defense, waited for forwards to alter through, and then depended on long shots to penetrate the Badger chain of guards.

SPOONER IS HERO

Dwight (Doc) Spooner played an excellent floor game for the visitors. The lanky forward was sure footed and fast. His shots seldom rolled off the hoops and he counted four goals and a free throw. Wackman, subbing for Gibson at center was second high scorer with a trio of baskets to his credit. Elsom and Barwig, guards, were the biggest bulwarks in the path of a Hilltop victory. Towering over their opponents, the string bean guardians of the Cardinal net picked off rebounds with ease and time and again started a whirlwind attack running down the court.

Joe Devine starred for the Hilltop. His roving guard play kept the ball in Cardinal territory the greater part of the first half and he stopped several of the swift sneaker rallies under the basket. Spooner and Red Dunn had a bad night. The fighting little captain advanced the ball many times to the backboards only to see his shot go astray. Red, too, found the hoop hard to hit and later in the fray he played a strictly guard game.

SKATING STARS TRY FOR CHANCE IN OLYMPIC RACE

United States Candidates Enter Elimination Trials On Friday

New York—After making their farewell exhibition appearance in New York, Thursday afternoon, candidates for the American Olympic team and speed skating team will depart for a brief tour of New England prior to going to Saranac and Lake Placid for the elimination trials.

The skaters, including Joe Moore, William Steinmetz, Harry Kaskew, Duke Donovan and Valentine Baile, will engage in their first outdoor contests at Pittsfield, Mass., on Friday. There they will be joined by Charles Jewtraw, the international champion, and Charles Gossman, of St. John, N. B., who will represent Canada in the Olympics. Proceeds of the Pittsfield meet will be donated to the Olympic fund.

Skaters will appear in Boston on Saturday and then go to Saranac Lake, where on Dec. 25 the semi-final elimination trials at 500, 1,500 and 5,000 meters will be held. The final Olympic trials are scheduled at Lake Placid on Dec. 28.

From there the team will go to Newburgh to take New Year's day in the middle Atlantic states' championships. They will sail on Jan. 7 for France, where the Olympic events will start on Jan. 25.

Ring Uses Wit To Throw Nick Off His Game

This is a tale of the golf links. Ring Lardner, the humorist, was playing Nick Altrock, the comedian.

Nick, who has quite an edge on Lardner as a golfer, was leading by a comfortable margin when the two teed off at the twelfth green.

Altrock drove into a sand trap, much to the delight of Lardner. After Nick had wasted a couple of strokes trying to get out, spraying sand over the green, but no ball. Lardner was hoping he would require at least seven or eight more, when Lardner, who has a thorough knowledge of the part psychology plays in golf, glanced down the railway and noticed three or four prominent players were following them. Calling them by name, Lardner remarked:

"Four reputation is ruined, Nick, when I tell them how many strokes you required to get out of the trap." Altrock was plainly perturbed. When a golfer is in trouble he is always asking advice. Nick was anxious to get out of the trap.

"What shall I do?" asked Altrock.

"Better keep on digging and they'll think you're working down there," replied Lardner. Needless to say, the advice didn't help Altrock score. He took an 8.

YALE SHOWS WELL DESPITE LOSS OF CHARLEY O'HEARN

Fine Play After Star Is Crippled Proves Team No One-Man Affair

The remarkable success of the Yale football team in the season just closed is all the more praiseworthy when you consider that in the middle of the season it was deprived of Charley O'Hearn, the outstanding star of the eleven.

O'Hearn, a great tackle-thrust player, suffered a broken leg in the Bucknell game which put him out of the running for the big clashes with Princeton and Harvard. Some of the experts predicted that the injury to O'Hearn would greatly weaken the Yale offense.

However, the other members of the team proved conclusively that Yale was not a one-man team by going out and beating four great teams, the Army, Princeton, Harvard and Maryland.

Taking O'Hearn out of the Yale lineup was like removing Grange from Illinois, yet his absence from the game didn't have the slightest effect on the Bulldogs' showing.

Welker Cochran Cops Final Block But Fails To Overcome Big Lead

Pacific Coast Youth Takes Game By 225 Points When 18.2 Balkline Champ Slumps On Stroke

By Associated Press Chicago—While Hoppe again has gone through the familiar process of being acclaimed a world's champion, tied by Welker Cochran, the Hollywood youth in the recent New York international tournament, Hoppe emerged victorious, 1,500 to 1,151, Wednesday night after a three night's play for the title. Hoppe, still the master billiard and match game strategist, lost the final block to the young coast player by 225 points, but came through easily by virtue of a long lead he had built up against just such an emergency by taking the opening night's block 500 to 203, and the second installment 500 to 233.

Cochran seemed to suffer from a head cold throughout the contest but, suddenly, when Hoppe slipped Wednesday night, found his stroke and touch and narrowed the margin of defeat by an exhibition of sound billiard play.

PLAY FOUR HOURS

Four hours were required for Wednesday night's play, a total of 1,225 points being scored in 16 innings. Hoppe started as if he would make a runaway match of it, but his cue suddenly lost its magic, and for the last twelve turns at the table his count was only 23 in the best inning, although all during that time he was within 100 points of victory. Hoppe's best run for the match was 311, made Tuesday night. Cochran's best was 107 Wednesday night. Hoppe's grand average was 44.434, well under his record, and Cochran's was 34.534.

Under the tournament rules, Cochran will be regarded as having finished second and the champion must entertain a challenge from him within three months.

The challenge contest to be held in Detroit next month probably will be under the same conditions as that here, 1,500 points in three nights' play.

REBEL ADVANCE IN MEXICO IS CHECKED

By Associated Press. The rebel advance against Mexico City from Vera Cruz has apparently been checked for the moment at least, near San Marcos, 25 miles east of the capital, where in the words of a Mexico City dispatch, the fate of the rebellion is being decided.

Revolutionary headquarters in Vera Cruz claims the federals have withdrawn from the capital, but this is not borne out by newspaper correspondents on the scene, who report that the situation has remained stationary since Tuesday's fighting with the advance guards of the opposing forces in contact near San Marcos.

President Obregon, in a message to the Associated Press brands the rebels' claims as false and says he has "reason to believe that peace will be restored very quickly."

A federal thrust from the south, in an effort to cut the railway line between Vera Cruz and the rebel armies is reported in a movement by General Juan Dominguez over the railway from Santa Lucrécia, with Cordoba and Orizaba as his objectives.

NEW LONDON GIRL WANTS POSITION AS CITY HEALTH NURSE

Aldermen Not Sure Whether Council Or Board Of Health Makes Appointment

One application has thus far been received for the position of public health nurse in Appleton. The applicant is Miss Margaret L. Butler, 155 Jefferson street, London. She is a graduate of a Milwaukee school for nurses, has had experience in the tuberculosis sanatorium and the Emergency hospital at Milwaukee and has been a school nurse in Kenosha.

The common council at a recent meeting, upon the urgent request of a number of organizations in the city, voted to employ a visiting nurse, and fixed the salary at a maximum of $150 a month the same that is allowed by the county board for county nurse, which position is also vacant at present.

Aldermen are in doubt as to which body is vested with the authority of appointing the city nurse. Some are of the impression that since the council voted to employ one, it has the authority to make the selection. Others are of the opinion that the ordinance creating the board of health empowers that body to appoint a nurse subject, however, to the approval of the council. The health officer is appointed by the health board but the same official receives his appointment as city physician from the council.

TWO BADGER COWS SOLD EASTERN MAN FOR $4,800

Stevens Point—Gordonale farm, L. E. Gordon, Jr., owner at Nelsonville, has just sold two high class Guernsey cows for $4,800. The purchaser is Marshall Field, III, Huntington, L. I. N. Y. The animals will be used as foundation stock in Mr. Field's herd at Cammest farm. Mr. Field's manager, C. K. Dunning, and Thomas Lindsay, another Eastern breeder, came to Wisconsin in search of high class breeding stock. It was their visit to Gordonale, with R. F. Sheridan, Fond du Lac, which resulted in the deal. The animals sold are Elsie of Gordonale, 5, and her daughter, Golden Elsie of Gordonale, 3. Elsie has a two-year old record of 512 pounds so far and has just completed a four-year old record of 745 pounds so far.

I SPIED TODAY

SMIELLED TO HIGH HEAVEN
Two small girls got themselves saturated with perfume as a result of an accident on College-ave Monday afternoon. A woman dropped a package which proved to be a bottle of perfume. Two small girls, seeing what happened, got down on their knees and soaked their dresses in the stuff.

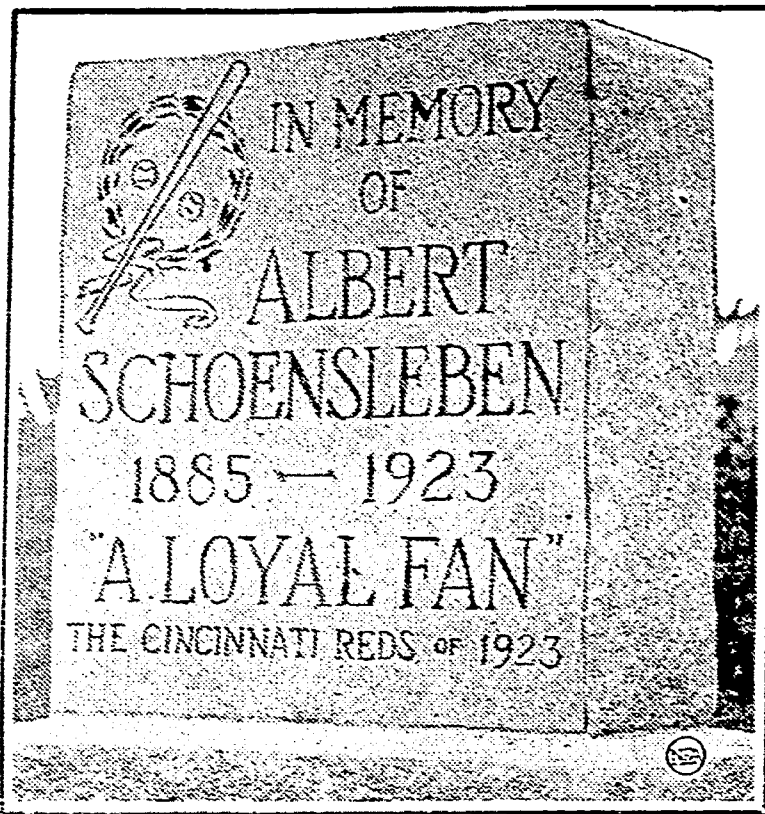

A BUNDLE BATTLE
Monday afternoon as I was in Gloucesters toy department I saw something interesting. A woman was making a purchase and she put down a package that she had. Another woman was standing nearby and although I didn't notice it she managed to pick up the other woman's bundle. When the former had completed her purchase, she looked for her other package. Neither she nor the clerk could see it, but she immediately rushed around the counter and grabbed a bundle which looked like hers from the woman who had been near her. She told what was in it and on opening it found it to be hers.

IT WAS A GOOD SCOLDING TOO
As I was leaving one of the theaters Sunday afternoon I noticed a young man take a cigarette and unconsciously scratch a match on the fender of a car. The owner of the car saw the scratch and called a man, but did not get the right man. The car owner gave him a severe "calling down" while the real offender walked away unharmed.

GOING AND COMING
It's common knowledge that Fords will go anywhere and do anything and will run with water and a piece of ant loak, but about 8:15 Monday night I saw what I believe is the best car yet for a driver. I was standing at the First National bank corner when August Brandt's company's service truck turned on College-ave from Appleton. A driver that had both hind wheels and off from the deck, with its rear end to that of the truck. The front wheels were used to propel the other end of the machine. A man was at the wheel of the broken car, riding backwards and screeching. Needless to say he looked ludicrous and the sight drew a laugh from the shopping throng.

SNOW BEAUTIFUL SNOW
So accustomed are we to snow at Christmas time that the merchants feel we must have it, whether the weather man is too busy buying his presents or not. If you have a sense of humor, you cannot help but laugh at the window displays with artificial snow and ice, while there is none outside.

THE TEAM REMEMBERS!

Albert Schoensleben—around Redland Field in Cincinnati they know him as "Al, the milk man"—was a loyal rooter for Pat Moran's Reds. He never missed a game. And always he occupied the same seat in the bleachers. No matter how crowded the sections were, the crowd always held Al's place for him. Al died recently. And the Reds erected this monument to his memory.

A. A. L. DIRECTORS HERE FOR ANNUAL SESSION

Practically all of the directors of the Aid Association for Lutherans had arrived Thursday morning for the semi-annual meeting scheduled for the afternoon. The program includes a dinner at Conway hotel. Reports for the year are being submitted and the ballots for trustees and directors as cast by the various branches will be canvassed.

Christmas Program
A Christmas program of music was given at the high school on Thursday morning. One of the most noteworthy numbers was a duet by the Misses Alberta Allagier and Lillian Mead. The chorus sang "Christmas carols and there were selections by the orchestra.

CITY HOME IN FINE SHAPE, COMMITTEE SAYS AFTER VISIT

Plenty To Eat For City Charges, Council Told—Recommend Improvements

The neatness and cleanliness of the city home received special comment in the report of the committee on poor consisting of Aldermen R. F. McGillan, chairman, and Aldermen L. O. Hansen, C. D. Thompson, C. F. Smith, Wenzel Hassmann and Walter Schultz, who visited the charitable institution Monday.

"We find an abundance of everything in the line of vegetables. In the line of canned preserves and vegetables there are about 125 quarts. There are about 125 bushels of potatoes in the cellar that have been raised by the keeper, Shaske, on the farm this year, also three tons of beets which will be used for feed for the cow. There is plenty of hay for the three head of stock which we have on the farm this year."

The committee also reports that it had the heating plant overhauled and the roof and porches repaired. A bath tub and lavatory was installed, the fixtures being the donation of the Vocational school and were formerly in use in the Willy house now belonging to the school.

Among the needed changes and repairs recommended are caiking the windows to keep out the cold air, new window shades and curtains and resurfacing of floors in the recreation rooms and purchase a couple of tables for the recreation rooms. The committee also suggests that two dozen fruit trees be planted on the grounds. The grounds are being filled in and leveled off on the property of the isolation hospital.
